

simple is beautiful

WE ARE NUDE

We live in a confusing world; too many choices, too many products, too much 'noise'.

Nude believes things can be different; the remedy simple.

Simple is beautiful.

Simple is pure, clear, transparent.

Simple is useable, clean, uncluttered.

Simple is convenient, reliable, timeless.

Simple is all of these things, and also the reason things are so rarely simple.

Because designing and making something simple is not as simple as it seems.

Simplicity means caring enough to consider actual needs before refining them to their essence - nothing more, nothing less, the final object easy to understand, use and live with.

This means getting closer to the user in order to determine where less equals more, and form most perfectly meets function; where everything is always in the right place at the right time.

This idea of simplicity is the guiding principle behind Nude.

It is reflected in our design-aesthetic, our mindset and culture.

The result is our promise reflected in glass.

Nude... simple is beautiful.

Chef Mauro Colagreco of MIRAZUR

Born in La Plata, Argentina in 1976, Mauro Colagreco attended culinary school at the Lycée Hôtelier de La Rochelle before going on to work with the most legendary names in French cuisine: Bernard Loiseau, Alain Passard, Alain Ducasse and Guy Martin. In 2006, at the age of 29, he opened his own restaurant on the French Riviera and, within six months, had become the first non-French chef to be named Revelation of the Year by the Gault & Millau guide. Today, Mirazur boasts three Michelin stars and a berth at the pinnacle of S. Pellegrino's Best 50 list.

Mirazur, Chef Colagreco's three-star restaurant in Menton, earned the coveted title of World's Best Restaurant and Best Restaurant in Europe 2019 but it has continued to win critical kudos consistently for 12 years. Like Nude, Mirazur blends sophisticated craftsmanship with a luxurious simplicity. It was a quest for quality that prompted Chef Colagreco to choose Nude's glassware collections--Stem Zero and the Alba, Chill, Finesse, Vintage, Red or White Carafe and Camp--to frame his singular food service. "Nude is simple, beautiful and stylish," he says.

"I WORK TO MEET PEOPLE AND MAKE THEM EXPERIENCE A UNIQUE MOMENT. NOT BEING AFRAID TO FOLLOW YOUR OWN PASSION IS THE KEY."

Shonquis Moreno: Why did you decide to use Nude glassware at Mirazur?

Mauro Colagreco: I chose Nude glassware for its different style and also for the lightness of the glass itself. With that kind of glassware we can use one glass for the wine pairing instead of many different glasses, which can be overwhelming. It becomes like a show for the client.

S.M: Do you think that the quality of food and food service, the atmosphere and the aesthetics of a restaurant have a significant influence on each other?

M.C.: I believe that the gastronomic experience begins with the person's arrival at the restaurant, not just with the tasting of a dish. Each element--food, service, atmosphere and aesthetics--is part of a coherent whole that will provide a broader and richer experience for the senses and in the minds of the people who visit us. This year we have renewed the interior and we continue with work in other areas of the restaurant according to this philosophy.

S.M: Does glass, as a material, have a particular meaning or beauty for you as a chef?

M.C.: Of course, glass is a very interesting material for chefs. We can give glass whatever form and color we wish and we must use fire to do it! It's just like cooking.

S.M: Where do you most often find your inspiration for the creative process of cooking?

M.C.: Inspiration is an unanticipated process, which cannot be predicted, but in my case most of the time inspiration comes from the ingredients I find in the gardens, or that I discover in the market. From there, I like to play with new combinations. I work with the organoleptic properties of the ingredients, but also I think about their origins, the history related to each ingredient, and the way we usually work with it...

S.M: In 2006, how did you originally want the gastronomic experience to feel at Mirazur? What influenced or inspired you while you were creating the concept?

M.C.: Although Mirazur has evolved over time, I had the idea from the first day: I did not want to offer just dishes to customers, but a real experience. I wanted to offer a "trip" and for the customer to trust me and let himself be drawn into the experience. It is a challenge that, for me, requires great responsibility and creativity to support customers in their desire to be surprised. In a menu there is much more than ingredients. There is emotion, associations that will occur in the memory and the personal and unique universe of each person in the encounter with a smell, a color, a texture. For me, this is "the trip".

S.M: Like people, restaurants probably change naturally over the years, but Mirazur just keeps winning awards like this year's Best Restaurant 2019 award. What do you think has been the key to maintaining your success over time?

M.C.: The secret is to always evolve. I've never worked for the prizes, to follow the achievements of others. I work to feel free in my creations. I work to meet people and make them experience a unique moment. Not being afraid to follow your own passion is the key.

S.M: Besides Mirazur, I know that you also own a chain of Argentine hamburger restaurants, Carne. What attracts you to owning these two very different types of restaurants?

M.C.: For me, there is good cuisine and bad cuisine. The important thing is not the public but the values. We always cook according to the same principles--using only excellent ingredients and respecting nature--whether it is for a wide audience or haute cuisine. The foundation is the same.

YAIR HAIDU

The Master of Elegant Tastes

Yair Haidu is not only a wine expert but also managed The Israel Wine Academy in his native land in the 1990's. The Israeli-French Haidu studied at Hebrew University in Jerusalem, even creating wine lists for the airline El Al before working for the Austrian glassware company Riedel, handling retail in Europe from 1999-2006. He is now brand consultant for Nude. There he helps strategize, consult and contribute to the development of designs including new wine glass collection Stem Zero Master Glass.

Melissa Feldman: What's your experience been when working with glassmakers?

Yair Haidu: I love to work with glassmakers. There is something very special when working with creators in a field that hasn't changed in thousands of years. In an expanding technological world it's inspiring to see a profession that has remained intact since the Bronze Age. The thing that has always impressed me is the willingness to constantly challenge the possibilities, even when at times the request seems to defy the laws of physics. The working conditions nearing furnaces of over 1000 degrees, pipes, and melting liquids are truly arduous and finding them with a positive attitude, and to make experimental work is something I will always appreciate.

M.F.: What exactly was the original inspiration for the Stem Zero Master Glass Collection?

Y.H.: Although I love complexity, I hate complication. There is a spot in which by trying to be too perfect and too detailed we lose everyone. It is the case with wine glasses and although every glass will make the same wine taste different, there is a point in which we have to stop complicating things and search for the simple, which paradoxically is always the most difficult thing to do. This glass was created for either wine professionals seeking an all-around instrument to taste wines on the go or for people who cannot afford to keep different glasses for every wine they encounter.

M.F.: What was your thinking regarding the design and shape of the Stem Zero Master Glass Collection?

Y.H.: When looking at the glassware, the collection had to bring clarity and simplicity. I wanted to inspire confidence in our customers so we looked at fine-tuning four types of glasses you need; two white and two red. And we made sure to not name them by their grape varieties. For the whites we called one Delicate and the second Full-bodied. For the red, we have a glass for Elegant and one for Powerful red wines. The Master is a unique glass within the Stem Zero line. We realized that for many people who love wine, they might need more than four glasses. This glass could not be too large, but small enough to carry into restaurants and tastings. The Master is more professional and works with all varieties. It's the best for one glass.

M.F.: How did you interact with the design process for Stem Zero?

Y.H.: The design process is very specific when understanding the glass shape while still attempting to be original and create something new that wasn't done before. We played with the design on the drawing board, then 3D printer, then we gave it to the design team and they created a mold.

M.F.: Did you do tastings with the prototypes before going into production?

Y.H.: We had the opportunity to do some tastings. I was able to observe where the competition failed and was lucky to create glasses with enough time with the opportunity to modify, but ultimately did not feel the need to modify. Today when I taste with wine, the glasses feel like they were created in the right proportions.

M.F.: What types of decorative objects do you incorporate on to your table?

Y.H.: I love flowers so vases are imperative on my table. Candleholders are not a prerequisite but on the romantic table, I still opt for the natural shimmering light of candles. Decanters are also decorative objects I love to play with during dinner and I love playing with materials, that is why Alba by Nude which combines marble and crystalline is one of my favorites.

We're raising our glass to the best restaurant in the world.

At Nude we're proud to see our Stem Zero glasses being raised every day by guests at Mirazur. Now it's time for us to raise our glasses and congratulate the exceptional chef Mauro and his 3 Michelin-starred restaurant Mirazur, on being awarded The World's Best Restaurant at The World's 50 Best Restaurants 2019.

ROCK & POP Artist Collection

Like hand-blown glass--liquid and solid, brittle but unbreakable--humans are unique: Genetically, we're almost identical, but we differ in tiny ways that make each of us unrepeatable.

As a young, modern brand, Nude celebrates singularity. We are endlessly inspired by the expressive potential of street culture and the myriad musical genres to which it has given rise. Street art and music are felt, not reasoned. They are languages that promote self-expression in infinite forms but, at the same time, are understood by anyone and everyone.

Hand-illustrated in editions of 10, the Rock & Pop series of designer Ali Bakova's Memento Mori skulls is an artistic collaboration that imbues each piece with the emotion, artistry and immediacy of these inspirations. By making their mark on the luminous surfaces of Bakova's skulls, graffiti writers Cins and Kien, tattoo artists Erensu Ekmekciler and Luca Font, and illustrators Sena and Umut Karaman have turned high culture and craft into a canvas for street art and fashion. In the end, it takes icon-busting to create an icon. It takes courage, rule-breaking and creativity to make one's mark on the street. Nude celebrates the complexity--on the street, in glass, or inside ourselves--that it takes to create something genuinely new, unique and perfectly simple.

'Pop and rock means the 1980s to me,' says illustrator Umut Karaman. 'My personality as a designer was developing in the 80s and the music left marks on my life.' Karaman also designed patterns to be used on vases & glasses for Nude Rock & Pop collection. The pieces play with neon colors, bold shapes, dynamic figures, simple 1980s-echoing lines, and the spirit of pop and rock.

OPTI & LAYERS

by Defne Koz

Nude has been working with Defne Koz since 2017, when the brand launched her Layers vase collection in Palazzo Litta during Milan Design Week. This year, Nude introduced her Opti vases and centerpiece in Ambiente. Based between Milan and Chicago, Koz's work combines her Turkish origins with a love for Italian culture, while investigating a wide range of product types. She recently received the Elle Deco Turkey Designer of the Year award and, for Layers, the German Design Gold Award 2019.

OPTI

Shonquis Moreno: Where do you most often find your design inspiration?

Defne Koz: My design always tries to awaken the senses, to evoke subtle emotions with deep, rich materials and shapes. All my designs for Nude use glass to explore different kinds of sensations, mostly visual, but also tactile sensations through the use of textures and surface patterns. My interest is to develop a multi-sensory language and create immersive experiences that engage the whole body and the whole mind.

S.M.: You've worked with glass many times. Is the material special in any way, in your opinion?

D.K.: I learned that glass is transparent but not invisible, that's a big difference. Even when the material itself is neutral and transparent, it's not the absence of sensation, but the addition of many sensations that are ever-changing, difficult to grasp because they change with the light hitting from different angles. Glass is rich and mysterious, and you perceive it differently every time. For this reason, every time I work with the material, I try and explore one of its many attributes: reflection, refraction, translucency, fade, texture, layering, and color.

S.M.: What was your inspiration for the shapes and the lovely texture of Opti Collection?

D.K.: Opti is all about textures, the surface of the vases is 'micro-pleated' to create an optical illusion, a visual vibration of the surface. In the transparent version of Opti, the texture is amplified by the refraction of the material, in the versions in colored glass this creates a kind of color moiré.

"GLASS IS RICH AND MYSTERIOUS, AND YOU PERCEIVE IT DIFFERENTLY EVERY TIME."

S.M.: What flowers do you put in Opti vases?

D.K.: I put a large bunch of yellow mimosas in the first prototype of Opti that I got in my studio. The small yellow flowers create a cloud of texture that dialogues very well with the texture of the glass vase.

S.M.: How do you think about choosing a color palette when you're working with glass?

D.K.: Layers vases are based on transparent layering, so I selected colors that work nicely in addition to each other, like overlapping color filters. For Opti collection I selected very 'native' glass colors, like clear and smoke green, because they work well with the texture of the surface.

S.M.: Is there any object you would like to design in glass, in particular, that you haven't done yet?

D.K.: A car. Maybe it sounds crazy, because we're used to thinking that cars need to be strong, metallic, protecting us from crashes, but there was a period, between the '60s and the '70s, when designers were opening up the living space of cars with much larger windows and using glass in a very innovative way. Today only a few cars are designed 'from the inside out', to give a great quality of life inside. Considering the progress in glass technology, I'm sure we could create a great sense of openness, and a stronger connection between inside and outside, with extensive use of glass in a moving vehicle.

Space Copenhagen on Silhouette

Danes Signe Bindslev Henriksen and Peter Bundgaard Rützou are graduates of the Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts. The pair launched Space Copenhagen, their design firm in 2005 where they work across disciplines, producing furniture, lighting and objects for interiors for residential and hospitality projects. The couple often use natural materials, and a subdued color palette that highlights craft. Space Copenhagen's clients range from international manufacturers including Georg Jensen, GUBI, Stellar Works, and Fredericia Furniture. Restaurant and hotel projects include 11 Howard, New York; the original Noma launched by René Redzepi in Copenhagen; Geranium, Copenhagen owned by Bócuse d'Or winner Rasmus Kofoed; and Geist, run by Michelin star chef Bo Bech.

Melissa Feldman: Have you worked with glass before?

Space Copenhagen: It is our first time working with glass, and the glass itself and the complexity of the craft techniques behind it is deeply fascinating to us.

M.F.: What was it like working with the Nude team?

S.C.: Our collaboration with the wonderfully skilled craftsmen at Nude has been truly inspiring. Whether fused, cast or blown, the sheer immediacy of the process, the intensity of coaxing molten glass into these exquisite precise forms is quite unique and unlike anything we have experience with.

M.F.: What's your approach when combining form and function? What other types of foods are you imagining would work in these vessels?

S.C.: Every case is different. Here, we were interested in how to effortlessly convey a welcoming, generous gesture in the form. The small family of individual bowls, yet compatible base identities can be used in different ways and common for them all is their open and inviting and generous shape. Our intention was to create a very flexible collection. Whether filled with nuts, a dish, on their own or with a couple of berries, we wanted them to communicate an inviting gesture in an understated but clear way.

M.F.: How do you think about incorporating decorative objects like these on to your table setting?

S.C.: The generous sentiment of sharing bowls and trays for a table setting is appealing to us, and we like the simple sculptural ornamental character that glass pieces like these introduce to a space.

M.F.: What was your original inspiration for the Silhouette Collection and how did you begin your design process when creating the collection for Nude?

S.C.: When we started sketching, our inspiration was purely the material itself. In the process, its fluid and transparent nature quickly became almost a fourth dimension with a constant interplay between edge, volume and curve, and techniques that are unique to glass determining outcome in ways that were new to us, which was a great learning

M.F.: What other types of accessories are you interested in designing that might relate to the collection you've just created?

S.C.: We see so many amazing possibilities, whether glass, vases or larger free form objects, which could be really interesting to explore.

M.F.: Do you like cooking? If so what in specific? Fish perhaps?

S.C.: For both of us cooking is a wonderfully relaxing, social and sometimes almost meditative endeavor, something that takes you out of a busy professional life and into a sphere where it's about this ritual and experience. We love the Mediterranean and Asian way of sharing a meal, together, passing the bowl or plate along, a lot of choice, many dishes on the table, that whole interaction around the table throughout the meal.

M.F.: Do you have a favorite restaurant besides the ones you've designed? And why?

S.C.: We work with restaurants for a living, and seek out food experiences all the time, both here in Copenhagen and when traveling. So, to us culinary experiences are so intrinsically tied to the place you're at, the mood, you're in, the people you're with, that singling out a favorite wouldn't be fair. It could be amazing dumplings in a side street on Lower East Side, fine dining in Copenhagen, or fresh fish in a modest family restaurant in Milan.

Exquisitely sculptured glass ornament designed by Istanbul-based Ali Bakova. Shaped as the top half of a human skull, the ornaments rest on a flat base. They come in jet black, crystal clear, and opaque white glass. The pieces come in two sizes, offering a bold or subtle addition to any desk or bookshelf. The glass is cut in sharp prismatic strokes, reflecting the light in a powerful way.

They are iconic items, and the centerpiece of the NUDE Memento Mori collection. The skulls act as a constant reminder of our mortality, and an inspiration to live life to the full, making the most of every moment we have. BERET

by Sebastian Herkner

Like the inimitable French headgear, these lidded vessels are remarkable for their elegant, effortless simplicity. Lids crafted from silky-looking brass close over softly tinted glass containers--in three sizes--like the tasteful toppers of the Basques people, who originated the beret.

Playing on glass' innate material contradictions, the Blade vases juxtapose soft and hard, smooth and sharp, in a single object. Inspired by the art world's explorations into sheer overlain color, Blade gives a nod, in particular, to the work of artists, whose works relies on the overlap of transparent hues.

BUBBLE
by Pentagon Design

Playful and modern, these two Bubble vases in either soft gray or blue have a funky and relaxed air to them. Made by a master blower, they are free shapes - not from a mould - so not one of them will ever be the same. Their shape retains a raw and organic feel, and is a vivid representation of the art of glass-blowing.

CONCENTRICS

by Ron Arad

"No doubt, the most seductive feature of glass is its transparency," Arad says. But the Concentrics vessels make the most of the malleability of the material, as well. His second collaboration with Nude, this four piece set of nesting bowls and vases were hand-blown using an artisanal process called çesm-i bülbül that originated in İstanbul, fusing slender strips of colored glass into the clear body of each container.

The curvature of the two bowls cleverly reflects the rich metallic sheen, the density of the glass changing as one nears the rim. Both solidly-built items, they offer a dramatic centerpiece to any table while retaining Nude's passion for simplicity. 2016 sees three new items in the Contour range, already well known for their dramatic copper base that seamlessly blends into clear crystal glass. The new selection includes a candle holder, a budvase and a bowl.

The second Contour collection is a limited edition of two vases and two bowls. Similar in design to their counterparts in the range, they differ in that they have a lighter gold base. This creates a more liquid sense to the products, the gold is more reflective, the inner and outer patina contrasting slightly, adding a feeling of mystery and depth. Effortlessly elegant, the vases have a softly-rounded base, offering a receptacle for long or short stemmed flowers. The wide-profiled bowls can be used as table displays or for more functional purposes at meal times. All in all, a welcome addition to the range.

A play on the term Demi John - the traditional French jug used to ferment wine - these two brushed-grey vases can be used as ornaments, or to hold a single flower. The XL version is a floor standing item, the smaller sized is for a windowsill or bookshelf. Using them to refract light adds a startling sense of drama to any home.

This collection is inspired by the Earth Pyramids of Ritten, a very unique formation of the local landscape. The idea of balancing a round stone on the top of another volume was fascinating me to design Ecrin, a collection of containers in three sizes with a stone like lid on top. These lids are smooth like river stones blown in colored glass. The bases of the containers are handmade in thick glass to contrast the lightness of the lids. It is a composition of volumes, colors and space in glass.

HEADS UP

by Nigel Coates

The double curve of the design plays with the light, the thick base of each item creating the sense that each of the pieces are floating in air. Each item incorporates the same element of sensuousness and light, the bowls have a perfect balance of the masculine and feminine.

A magical glass vase in smoked grey, its angles are Escher-like in their seeming illogicality. The vase appears to be triangular and circular at the same time, and the way the glass twists around itself creates a fascinating illusion. The edges are soft and slightly elliptic making the vase beautiful to touch. An object which will highlight any room, the Inca comes in two sizes, both as mesmerising as each other.

Another reversible item, the vase is a large blown-glass bowl in smoked grey or nude pink. A dramatic piece that is freely-blown, ensuring that each is completely unique, it can be used for flower arrangement or simply storage. Turned on its head it also works as a display-stand for cakes and desserts. Its soft curves are irresistible, providing a magnificent pedestal for any display.

Because of the method by which these vases are made, not one of them is exactly the same. Hand blown, half of the glass is coloured in either pink, white or blue. The bottom half of the vase remains clear in order to reveal its contents. Delightful for use all around the home. Like a Zen master, the Magnolia range instills a sense of the moment, and can be mixed and matched in a multitude of ways. Perfect for all around the home.

A series of sleek table top serving bowls in a variety of colours and sizes. The bowls perfectly marry the masculine and feminine with their crisp rim and velvety curves. The bottom of each bowl slopes to a soft base, insinuating a lightness to the item, as if floating on air. The inky black version is distinctly powerful, the opal gray more gently luminescent.

M I S T

by Tamer Nakişçı

From the designer Tamer Nakişçı this trio of vases are made in an extraordinary clear yet corrugated glass. The rippled effect creates an optical illusion reflecting the different colours of the contents in an almost magical way. Flowers particularly are beautifully presented in these vases, the undulation blurring the stems, bringing into focus the colour of the petals. However the wider versions are also suited to storing newspapers, books or magazines. Simple but unique, these items works perfectly both in a domestic and professional environment.

A large family of vases, the glass Mono Boxes' simplicity allow maximum enjoyment of whatever you choose to put in them. Whether an aquarium, an array of stones, or desert plants, the clarity of the surface brilliantly enhances the contents. The larger vases in blue feel almost liquid. An art piece in themselves they can also be employed for multiple uses, such as a punch bowl or ice bucket.

The more modest sized vases are perfect for fruit or candies. The smallest in the range is wonderful for all manner of items: jewellery, makeup, tissues, cotton wool. They make a perfect gift, not only for others but yourself. The ones in opal grey work brilliantly on an office desk. As a receptacle for business cards, usb sticks, paper clips, rubber bands, they are a simple way of clearing clutter while at the same time, making a stylish statement.

NEST

by Pentagon Design

A candy box to store anything or nothing at all, such is its beauty. It comes in two sizes, allowing it to be used both as a decorative and utility item. The lid is perfectly formed and drops neatly into place, protecting the contents from prying hands but enabling easy removal when the urge for a treat becomes overwhelming. The Nest is available in six soft yet distinct colours: a cool grey, frosted, rose pink, cobalt blue, caramel and clear.

The Opti vases and centerpiece offer a hypnotic contrast of soft curves and subtle fluting, wearing only the gentlest of vertical ripples around the body of each piece. This implied plasticity stands in contrast to the rims, which are cut flat and not tapered. The collection will be available in clear and green.

The soft curves of each item are rich with sensuality echoing the shape of the human body. The master glass blower combines two colors into one, leaving the outside of the vases on exotic grey, the inside, white and almost porcelain-like. The satin vases in opal gray are works of art like everything in the Nude range, are also superbly functional.

SWEETS

by Adrien Rovero

Exquisite, minimal, feminine, and sensual. Sweets is a set of three vases quintessentially NUDE. In a delicate brushed pink and resting on a gloss white base (which also acts as a tray), these vases are both striking and blissful. Perfect for bathrooms and bedrooms, their luxurious surface invites you to touch, so softly curved is the sand-blasted texture. The colour is iridescent, at once soothing yet simple. Cleverly designed for a single-stemmed flower, the Sweet vase brilliantly lives up to its name.

A simple jewellery tree made from oak, set within a pure glass surround in either clear or green. The design cleverly enhances the jewellery, the contrast between the organic and the hand-crafted, both charming and practical. Reminiscent of a bird cage, the soft curve of the dome beautifully sets off the sparkle of necklaces, bracelets and rings.

EDEN

by Nude Design Team

The Eden that comes in two sizes, is an exquisitely manufactured glass terrarium - a miniature garden. Lying atop a bowl of moulded concrete (is a substance that lies at the heart of the Nude ethos, being that it is simple yet graphically strong), the Eden can be used for planting all year round. For those less green-fingered, it also makes a beautiful candle-feature for both indoors and out. A solid yet dynamic candle holder, its base is weighted for stability, making a perfect container for a candle or potted plant. The top half of the candle holder lifts off for ease of access, resting elegantly on a subtly grooved rim. Curved towards its opening, the glass is transparent, allowing for both air and light while protecting the contents from external elements.

Fumo is a solid piece of crystal clear glass, heavy and demonstrative, smooth to the touch. It's a personal ashtray, perfectly sized to sit on an arm-rest or side-table. The bowl of the tray itself precludes any chance of ash being spilled. The deep groove leading from the bowl to the edge, wide enough to sustain the most Robusto of cigars. For the dashing provocative woman, or the solidly stable man, the Fumo is a wonderful gift, and a beautiful adornment to any room.

Wearing her thick-framed circular eyeglasses, her colorful lipstick and adorned with heavy layers of necklaces and bracelets, Iris Apfel blends a maximalist sensibility with extreme simplicity. Apfel views simplicity not as a style, but as a state of mind. In keeping with this philosophy, Nude designed a paperweight in three versions (clear, gradient red/orange and gradient green/blue) with an abstracted appearance that nonetheless incorporates her signature look.

Paroles Paroles Collection is a family of paperweights expressing words that matter at work. "BRAVO" is to remind you that you're doing great; "RELAX" is a little encouragement to go easy on yourself; "WHY NOT" is to inspire you to think outside of the box and so on. The collection started with BRAVO. We needed a gift to give to our friends and collaborators to celebrate their efforts and success. You often send an email or call people to say, "Bravo!", but it is very fleeting. It doesn't stay. We wanted something lasting, something that you can have on your desk every day to remind you that your great work is being recognized. After "BRAVO" it was imagined other unique feelings and sentiments we wanted to gift to others, and with that, the collection grew to include more of these sentiments-BFF (Best Friends Forever), YOLO (You Only Live Once), WHY NOT. Each one of them is meant to make someone happy!

A decorative dish in opal white, opal lila, opal gray and black with a softly edged rim. The shape is both organic and fluid, echoing nature and a sense of the sea. Can be used flat, or as a decorative piece hanging (from a door handle or peg). Reversible, it can also be employed as a paperweight or as place marker. A delightful thing that adds character to any space, the different varieties of Pebbles means they can be mixed to create an environment of your own choosing.

An extraordinary and original piece created by the Swiss-based and award-winning designer Tomas Kral. "The two parts of the lamp are assembled together by simple rubber bands which refer to the top of a hot-air balloon. This minimal connection creates a tension sufficient to maintain the stability of the lamp, and also allows quick disassembly for changing the bulb." Light and airy, the lamp, though sturdy, seems to float.

Out of earth, air, water and wood comes the Babel rechargeable LED table lamp. Babel's structural shape, surface cut and stainless steel fixtures, are simultaneously airy and fluid. "I was immediately impressed by the powerful relationship that exists between the glass blower and the material," the designer recalls. "Each of their gestures, tirelessly repeated and mastered over the years, is based on a skilled technique." These artisans carve the light's tapered form in multiple facets that diffuse its glow over the table in many splinters of light.

The material fusion of water and glass, the elements that make up glass, has inspired this table light," Duchaufour-Lawrance says. A superb lamp, minimal in design yet strong in attitude, the Mono is made from blown unworked glass. Determinedly non-ornamental, it retains a strong sense of style, its concrete socket working in perfect balance with the simplicity of the glass itself. Embodying loft living, the Mono is a stunning centrepiece for any room.

The Smooth bedside lamp is comforting, minimal, soft, and unobtrusive. Its space-age design emits a warm glow, the feel of the lamp organic, the textures tactile. The main shade itself is made of opaque glass, contrasting effectively with the slate stone base, the matt and gloss finishes acting in harmony. Such is the skill of NUDE's glass-blowers, the density of the light gently changes as it hits different areas of the lamp. The Smooth is an endlessly fascinating thing, dreamy yet practical, simple yet unique.

A truly dramatic addition to any room, the Orion night light is an extraordinary piece of design. Essentially simple in its make-up, the crystal glass shade resting on a solid concrete base hails back to the Sci-Fi movies of the 1950's. The brushed surface running across the top of the glass means the light is diffused across the room, providing a soft and soothing glow perfect for bedrooms or any relaxing space.

Like a master key used to open any lock, the Master Glass can be used to drink any type of wine wherever you may be. Dining out or tasting with friends, the connoisseur need no longer rely on the choice of glasses available--or not available--in a pinch. When tasting at home, the six specially shaped Stem Zero glasses are each ideal for drinking either delicate or full-bodied whites, elegant or powerful reds or champagne. The Master Glass, however, has been hand-crafted in a single shape that represents the optimal compromise for drinking any wine, anywhere.

Stem Zero is a simple and elegant range of highly sophisticated glassware made to satisfy the most discerning wine connoisseur. The glass is so fine and so light that it defies belief. Such is the remarkable quality of the glass that it creates a sensation of weightlessness, that the wine is being held by an invisible force, allowing you to savour the aroma and taste of wine in a way that, until now, was considered unimaginable.

The Balance decanter and matching set of glasses have been ingeniously designed to remain stable while revolving. This proves an irresistible effect, the swirl of the liquid reflecting the energy in a room. The way the glass turns on its axis, feels playful and seductive in equal measure, while also gently aerating the liquid. A guaranteed conversation piece.

Three deceptively simple wine glasses, the Climats range is brilliantly adaptable for both formal and relaxed occasions. Including a fuller bodied glass for bigger red wines, a slimmer glass for rosé, and a medium glass for whites, each item is perfectly balanced with a fine stem and sturdy base. The lip of the glass is crisp and defined, narrowly tapering towards the brim in order to capture the fullness of the wine's aromas. These are a set of glasses you will want to use again and again.

A symmetrical cylinder of perfectly-blown glass, this beautiful artefact enables the wine to breathe properly, while letting light and movement play around the liquid, a constant reminder of its intoxicating properties. The degree of craftsmanship involved is extraordinary, the glass cut and polished to perfection.

HEADS UP

by Nigel Coates

A quartet of glasses designed by the always stylish Englishman Nigel Coates. The selection, like the designer himself, is confident, charming, yet eminently usable. The hand-blown tumbler is cleverly ridged, almost inviting the user to hold it in their hand. The wine glasses are also extremely tactile. The champagne glass is as charming as a cocktail dress and demands to be admired. At once playful yet refined, Heads Up is a marvellously individual and memorable range. The British designer Nigel Coates is renowned for his elegance and style. But like all the best Englishmen, he also possesses a wry sense of humour. His Heads Up collection, especially designed for NUDE, incorporates all of those elements.

Jour is a collection of wine and water glasses, a jug and a decanter. The essential shape of the wine glasses is square, but they widen towards the brim, the lip gently softened and curved outwards, providing a delicate contrast to the straight lines. The longer red wine glass is bisected by a delicate ridge, providing a subtle yet characterful feature. The decanter is a solid and reassuring piece of design, echoing the same lines of the glasses, and with a solid glass stopper.

Each item is gently flared outwards towards the rim, the glass softly-bevelled, creating a pleasant sensation in the hand while at the same time softly refracting the light.

by Joe Doucet

The O₂ carafes are solid wide-bottomed decanters made from the highest quality crystal glass. The glass has been delicately moulded with a series of dramatic intersecting perpendicular lines creating a sense of depth and character. The bottom of the carafes are softly domed, letting light into the base of the item.

The shape of the glass also makes reference to the tipsy-like state a party engenders. Also note the upside-down wine glasses. No need to waste time when moving from white to red; a twist of the wrist and one can proceed uninterrupted.

A set of five glasses, the Refine series is appropriate for all wines and champagnes. The red wine glass comes in two options - a narrow and wide body - perfect for both medium and full-flavoured wines. The white wine glasses, like the red, are subtle in design, the lower curvature of the glass either softly rounded, or slightly more flattened for a more distinctive grip. The champagne glass tapers ever so gently towards the rim, trapping the flavours while enhancing the drinking experience.

Nude's most comprehensive range: a glass for all seasons and for every occasion. You can be sure that whatever the drink - from wine & beer to liqueurs - the Vintage collection will provide the correct glass, ensuring a perfect experience every time.

Ingenious, playful, intuitive and practical, the Wine Party range is a series of glasses designed for the party experience. Their precisely-weighted stems allow them to be rested on surfaces, but also easily slipped into a pocket or purse. Hands are freed for more important purposes: greeting, rejecting, cajoling or gesticulating. For those reluctant to let go of their glass, the soft curve of the stem fits like a glove.

'Alba' is Gaelic for Scotland, the collection pays tribute to the spiritual home of whisky. The elegant glasses are punctuated by a hand-engraved and cleverly deconstructed Tartan pattern. Each glass is heavy-bottomed, and each carefully tapers towards the brim, holding in the subtle aromas. The decanters, also incorporating the ingenious tartanetching, are punctuated by a unique stopper which leans omni-directionally, inviting the more dedicated whisky lover to point the stopper in the direction of Scotland.

A sophisticated yet witty piece of craftsmanship, the Arch whisky bottle, a set of two glasses, and a matching bowl, are a group of perfectly balanced items that seem to defy logic but sit solidly on any surface. The subtle curvature of the glass base reflects the delightful swirl of a single malt, creating a sense of energy to an activity often perceived to be placid. The pieces have a subtle interlocking design that allows them to fit together imaginatively.

The 'Camp' collection consists of a decanter and two matching glasses. The glasses are beautifully styled, both heavy-bottomed and feel satisfying in the hand. The decanter has been designed to deliberately reflect a traditional hip flask, an item often passed around a roaring campfire. The integrated brass "X" coasters at the base of the items suggest the warmth emanating from burning logs, not dissimilar to the feeling one gets from tasting a great whisky. The decanter is finished with a solid glass stopper, sitting perfectly in the neck of the bottle. The result is a stylish and imaginative collection, full of character and originality.

The inspiration for the Glazz stacking glasses comes simply from considering a way of stacking glasses that avoids all the usual problems like locking together, breaking or being damaged and scratched which spoils the look and experience during use. The Glazz design avoids any of this damage to the surface of the glass when stacked especially around the rim where you drink from. The result is a distinctive, reassuringly weighted glass that retains a crystal clear smooth finish and increases its lifespan.

A set of five items in clear crystal glass, the Neo range includes two well-balanced glasses, one for long drinks, the other for whisky. There is also a long-stemmed champagne glass, and a crisply-defined wine glass. To complete the set, NUDE has created a matching mini-bowl, perfect for Tapas, nuts or dips. Each item is gently flared outwards towards the rim, the glass softly-bevelled, creating a pleasant sensation in the hand while at the same time softly refracting the light.

The name suggests mystery, but the glass is designed for someone who knows their liquor. Perfect for any spirit, these are a must-have for any serious drinker. Heavy-bottomed they feel substantial in the hand, each glass precision-sculpted to create a perfect pyramid inside its base. Dramatic and authoritative, it is modern and sleek. The No 9 decanter is a superb combination of masculine power and female elegance. Or perhaps it's the other way around! Either way, it's a sensational addition to any living room, an item to be cherished for years to come.

by Nude Design Team

The Wayne series consists of drinking glasses designed to underscore the aesthetic purity and radiance of crystalline glass. Each piece features a variety of reflections created by bold vertical scoring, equivalent to crisp pleats in a dress shirt. A horizontal channel at the bottom of each glass deepens the luminosity of each. Meanwhile, it clearly distinguishes the upper and lower elements of the objects and enriches the occasional overlay of cuts and reflections that are visible in different combinations at different angles.

A simple yet stylish coffee glass, the Addict is perfectly balanced with a smooth rim and a strong yet easy-to-grip glass-blown handle. The glass is at once refined yet robust, much like the flavour of the coffee it helps to enhance. Its simple lines, delicately tapering form, widening to rest on a solid base, offers both sophistication and style. It is a discerning glass for similarly discerning coffee-drinkers.

BEAK

Iris Apfel Inspiration by Tomas Kral

Iris Apfel, for Tomas Kral is a Fashion Icon with a very colorful and feminine style. In his Beak project re-designed for the Iris Apfel inspired collection, he wanted to play with this 2 points: feminine elegance & colorful approach. Realized together with the glass blowers of the Nude Glass Company, his idea of this project was to explore different skills & techniques of working with glass material such cutting & color painting. This by using them in a simple, refined & playful way. Using these traditional techniques, he decided to dress his carafes. With a touch of finesse and subtlety, he drew them graphic necklaces and highlighted some parts of their bodies by adding them color. He used the paint as if it were lipstick and he painted in color the edges of his carafes and tumblers.

Quintessentially NUDE. These are two tall yet minimal clear glass jugs with a heavily-weighted base. Simple yet elegant, they need never leave the table, but because of their brilliant design, they also fit perfectly into the door of a refrigerator, keeping the contents refreshingly cool. An opaque grey or pink glass lid rests on top, protecting the contents from any unwanted odours.

An amusing pair of matching water jugs with integrated mouth-blown glass cups in clear or green. The cups, decorated with a sleeping face, also work as a stopper, helping to keep the contents of the jug fresh. Either tall or short, curvy or skinny, the jugs can be mixed to best suit the owner. A charming gift either for a couple you know, or the person you love.

This playful carafe and tumbler set wear their functionality as their decoration. Cuts made by hand, as well as hand-painting, in the neck indicate where to hold the object and help to increase one's grip when it is heavy with liquid.

Continuing the theme of synchronicity, Nude offers a stylish matching water bottle and set of glasses in either clear or green. The glass is ribbed, almost like corduroy, creating an extraordinary tactile experience when held in the hand. The narrowing at the top of the glass also helps keep liquid cool. A stunning adornment to any table.

While large in dimension, the domes maintain a sense of the elegant, each finished with a perfectly balanced brass handle and resting on a solid marble base. The 'Cupola' domes are guaranteed to add a showstopping element to any sideboard or table.

A small vent ingeniously blown into the glass also prevents food from 'sweating'. As the domes are all hand-blown, not one of them is exactly the same.

Simple, sculptural, ornamental: Space Copenhagen's inspiration for their Silhouette bowls and compartment tray was the fluidity and transparency of the material itself. The table setting is a family of three vessels, each in two sizes and two colors (caramel and clear glass), with compatible bases that can be combined in many ways. This was their first foray into working with glass: "Whether fused, cast or blown, the sheer immediacy of the process, the intensity of coaxing molten glass into these exquisite precise forms is quite unique," says Henriksen. With its tapering edges but solid outlines, Silhouette explores its own contrasts and juxtapositions of solid and void, thick and thin, sharp and soft, along with the variations of color tones, layers and surface treatments.

Architect and industrial designer Ron Arad was born in Israel but moved to London, where his studio is still located, to study at the AA - Architectural Association from 1974 to 1979. The influence of Dadaism on Arad's early work is visible in his Rover chair, which resembles a ready-made art object and was intended as a critique of the art world. After more than 30 years, Arad's work remains diverse, irreverent and sculptural. Exhibited at world-class institutions like the Centre Pompidou in Paris and New York's Museum of Modern Art, his bold pieces always have a powerful clarity of form and reconsider accepted conventions about shape and function, eschewing embellishment or styling.

ROVERO

Adrien Rovero's designs often appear to be simple - an endlessly transformable sofa made from elegantly upholstered blocks, for example, or a collection of animal toys made from high quality leather off-cuts - but are inevitably the result of complex considerations. Adrien grew up in the Swiss countryside outside Lausanne, where he started making things from an early age, picking up both man-made and natural objects and turning them into something new. "I've always loved the idea of transformation," he says. In his studio in Renens, he works on furniture, lighting and exhibition designs, and teaches one day a week at the ECAL (L'Ecole Cantonale d'Art de Lausanne).

Turkish industrial designer Ali Bakova works from a studio in the large industrial zone of Istanbul's business district, Maslak, where creative offices and auto repair shops - designers and industry - live side-by-side. In 2015, Bakova, who is also one of the city's most respected design educators, co-curated an exhibition entitled Atölye Maslak Maker Culture during which the small-scale production of artistic and artisanal objects was conducted on-site, using 3D printers. Bakova's work can be playful - he may fashion a cat from Iznik tiles or a wooden chair taking its cues from the iconic Galata Bridge - but it also focuses on purity, what is essential and smart functionality.

AYŞE BİRSEL

Ayşe Bırsel and Bibi Seck co-founded New York design studio Bırsel + Seck and have been designing award-winning products for more than 20 years for Fortune 500 companies. A Fulbright Scholar with design degrees from Pratt Institute and the Middle East Technical University in Ankara, Turkey. She introduced her user-centered, humanistic creative process, Deconstruction: Reconstruction™ in a 2015 book, Design the Life You Love (Ten Speed Press), as well as workshops and podcasts. Born in Paris and raised between Paris, London and Dakar, Seck earned a Master's degree in industrial design from ESDI Paris and worked as lead designer at Renault for 12 years, guiding large design teams through complex problems and earning two Car of the Year awards. He founded Dakar Next, a design studio-laboratory in Senegal to bring good design practices to West Africa and showcase their economic value.

RUIZ

He was born on December 18th, 1958, in Bahia Blanca which is a coastal town in Argentina, and graduated from Industrial Design Department in 1984. He has taught lessons in Domus Academy which he had the master's degree in 1986, and in Architecture Faculty of Milan Technical University. In Studio Ruiz which was founded by himself, he worked with various world famous brands. Ruiz has participated in many design and interior architecture focused events and exhibitions in Italy, France, Finland, Germany, Japan, The Netherlands, England and the USA. He has created the brand called Lessdesign with Anna Lombardi in 1994, with the purpose of developing industrial projects. The designer had been working on packaging, interior design, store design, event and exhibition design in Studio Ruiz. The designer died at the age of 60 in Milan.

Alev EbuZZiya is an internationally renowned artist, best known for her unique ceramic bowls which are in 30 museum collections around the world, though she has a real passion for glass and textiles too. "I knew by the time I left school that I wasn't going to be a dentist or a lawyer," she says. "Art is very important to me, but I like to work in the design world too, in larger scale production, so my pieces can reach many more people." In the 1960s, Alev headed to Copenhagen, attracted by the clarity and modernity of the Danish design of that period. Her own work also exudes a simplicity and tranquility that makes her a perfect partner for the Nude brand. For the last 32 years, she has lived in Paris, where her 100 m² south-facing loft in the 14th arrondissement also incorporates her studio. From there she makes regular trips to her native Istanbul, home of Nude.

Third generation designer Brad Ascalon established his eponymous, award-winning New York City studio in 2006 after studying industrial design at Pratt University in Brooklyn. Today, the studio specialises in the design of furniture, as well as lighting, packaging, and other consumer products, following an ethos rooted in straightforward design and a balance of form, function and concept.

Erdem Akan, born in 1973, has proven to be one of the most energetic proponents of Turkish design. His prolific creations include interiors, products and exhibition designs that offer a synthesis of East and West, traditional and contemporary, reflecting the twin influences of his Istanbul upbringing and a design education in the U.K. Attracted by the purity of Scandinavian design, Akan's imagination also remains at home in Turkey, where "nothing is straight, not even the streets." And so he invokes both in his work. Designing for Nude since its inception, he tends to create products as if for himself, while at the same time aligning them with the brand's philosophy of contemporary simplicity. Neither nostalgic nor futuristic, Akan is instead always creating products for "the right now".

Turkish industrial designer Defne Koz studied at Domus Academy in Milan before joining the studio of Memphis legend Ettore Sottsass. Her work synthesizes her Turkish roots with Italian culture and explores a wide range of product types. It humanizes new technologies, rediscovers artisanry, and highlights material sensuality. With Marco Susani in Chicago, Koz co-founded Koz Susani Design to create hightech devices, high-touch materials and interaction design, luxury crafts, mass-manufactured products and domestic objects. Koz has earned awards from Elle Decor International, RedDot and the German Design Council while her work has been exhibited around the globe, from Milan's Triennale and MARTa Herford to Galleria Post Design and Ozone Gallery Tokyo.

INGA SEMPÉ

French designer, born in Paris, Inga Sempe graduated from ENSCI-Les Ateliers (Ecole Nationale Supérieure de Création Industrielle, Paris) in 1993. From 2000 till 2001 she was scholarship holder at the Villa Medici, Academie de France in Rome and opened her own studio the same year. In the beginning, she first collaborated with the Italian companies. Now Sempe works among others with Scandinavian, Italian and French companies. She lives and works in Paris assisted by two other designers

MARKKU SALO

The work of the Finnish artist and designer Markku Salo ranges from the ridged tumblers he has designed for Nude, to largescale site-specific artworks - he recently completed 11 integrated stainless steel sculptures for a new hospital in Tampere - as well as electronics and graphic design. He has lived and worked in the glass village of Nuutajarvi since 1983 - a collection of old worker cottages and factory spaces dating back to 1793. These now accommodate a community of artists and makers including blacksmiths and ceramists and a glass hot shop. Designing, says Markku, is team work. Art is a solitary affair, where only the artist can make the decisions. For him, to do both creates an ideal balance.

MIKKO LAAKKONEN

Mikko studied furniture design at Kymenlaakso University of Applied Sciences, and later received his Masters degree from the University of Art and Design in Helsinki. After working in design and architecture firms for several years, Mikko founded Studio Mikko Laakkonen in 2004. He has been awarded the number of international and national prizes, including: Reddot design award honourable mention (2016), Chicago Athenaeum's Good Design Award (2015 & 2010), Muuz International Awards 2014, Finnish Designer Awards '14: Furniture Designer Of The Year, Reddot: best of the best design award (2013) Reddot design award (2012), and the Young Designer of the Year prize (2009).

JOE DOUCET

After graduating from the prestigious Art Center College of Design in 1999 with a degree in Communication Design, Doucet quickly began exporting his vision beyond graphic design into product, furniture, environment, packaging, technology and many other problems that clients have thrown at him over the years. His portfolio encompasses a variety of industries and clients. Doucet's work has been exhibited numerous places internationally, including the London Design Museum and the Biennale International Design in Saint-Etienne, while his awards include a 2016 Cooper-Hewitt National Design Award Nomination in Product Design, a 2010 World Technology Award for Design and Good Design Awards in 2012 and 2008. He currently holds more than 50 patents for his designs and inventions.

NIGEL COATES

Nigel Coates is one of the UK's most creative thinkers, architects and educators. He is the designer of everything from groundbreaking restaurant and retail interiors in countries as diverse as Japan and Turkey, to museum extensions in London, and high-end products for grand European marques, all informed by a sensual and organic quality and a fluidity of line. He has written with unbridled imagination about what cities could be, and fiercely defends the idea that function and aesthetics can happily co-exist. From 1995 to 2011 Nigel Coates also led the Architecture Department at the Royal College of Art in London, and is now establishing a new model for architectural education at the London School of Architecture, based in East London. He divides his time between the UK and Tuscany, where he has restored a 15th century hilltop house in his own unique style. It is this close relationship with Tuscany, and its grand wines, which has directly informed his first collection for Nude.

NOE DUCHAUFOUR- LAWRANCE

Parisian interior architect and designer Noé Duchaufour-Lawrance believes that design should have the power to awaken all the senses. Duchaufour-Lawrance favors forms that are organic and flexible, structured and disciplined. At ENSAAMA, a university of the arts and design in Paris, he studied metal sculpture before moving into the world of decorative arts and furniture. In 2003, after designing the lush, rose-colored Sketch restaurant in London, he founded Néonata and in quick order remade London's Senderens restaurant, Monaco's Maya Bar and the Sénéquier in St Tropez. Other marquee clients have included Baccarat, Air France, Ceccotti Collezioni and La Chance. He has designed everything from a surfboard and a ceramic dinner service to scenography and lighting.

PENTAGON DESIGN

Arni Aromaa and Sauli Suomela established their agency, Pentagon Design, in 1996 - even though they were still studying for their MA in Industrial Design at Helsinki's University of Art and Design at the time. Now they run a studio of 15, including industrial, graphic and interior designers, engineers, and economists. Their projects range from packaging for a Finnish confectionery company to the interior of a new library. Their design education, which followed the Bauhaus ideology, has left them with a preference for restraint and rigour, while coming from Finland means they have always thought of glass as a primary material. "The Finnish glass heritage is so strong," they say. "In the same way that every interior architect has to design at least one chair in their lifetime, every Finnish designer has to work with glass."

SEBASTIAN HERKNER

Born in 1981 in Bad Mergentheim, Germany, Sebastian Herkner earned a degree in product design at the Offenbach University of Art and Design. There, he began to design objects and furniture that synthesize cultures, combine new technologies with traditional craftsmanship, highlight the beauty of his materials and draw renewed attention to the details. Herkner interned at Stella McCartney in London, deepening his knowledge of materials, colors, structures and textures. He opened his award-winning design studio in Offenbach am Main in 2006, and has worked for various brands on interior, exhibition, and museum design projects. Since 2007, Herkner has taught at HfG Offenbach am Main as a visiting lecturer.

SPACE COPENHAGEN

Danish designers Signe Bindslev Henriksen and Peter Bundgaard Rützou launched Space Copenhagen in 2005 to work across disciplines, creating everything from furniture, lighting and refined objects to art installations, art direction and interior design for homes, hotels and restaurants. The practice intuitively folds together functionality and sensuality, the unadorned and the emotional. Henriksen and Rützou often use natural materials, subdued colors, sharp clarity and meticulously worked craft. Theirs is a slow aesthetic that places material at the fore, trusting its innate qualities and longevity. Space Copenhagen clients include leading manufacturers such as GUBI, Stellar Works, Fredericia Furniture, & tradition and Mater. Their interior design--11 Howard in New York, the original Noma in Copenhagen and destination restaurant, Geranium--has also been recognized internationally.

STUDIO FORMAFANTASMA

Andrea Trimarchi and Simone Farresin are Studio Formafantasma, an Italian designers duo based in Amsterdam, The Netherlands. Both Andrea Trimarchi and Simone Farresin become recognized internationally for their provocative experimental materials, investigations and explorations of such issues as the relationship between tradition and local culture, critical approaches to sustainability, the historical, political and social forces that shape human environments and the significance of objects as cultural conduits. Viewing themselves as a bridge between craft and industry, object and user, research and the wider design industry, they have applied rigorous attention to context, process and detail on projects. Works by Studio Formafantasma have been commissioned by a variety of partners.

TOMAS KRAL

Switzerland-born Tomas Kral established his product design studio in Lausanne in 2008 while still earning the third of his degrees in industrial, product and luxury design at the Ecole Cantonale d'Art de Lausanne (ECAL). Kral is preoccupied with materials and processes, industrial production and research, so that, out of complex investigations, he produces exquisitely simple pieces, ranging from tabletop objects to lighting, furniture and accessories in glass, cork and ceramic. He has also been a recipient of the Swiss Federal Design Award.

YOUMEUS DESIGN

London-based Youmeus seeks out ambitious clients and, through design, makes them relevant. The office's work - the creation of design products and consumer experiences - begins with a fascination for the various ways that people live and the myriad different ways in which humans experience daily life. Through their philosophy and creativity, Youmeus unlock radical and imaginative ideas, glamorous, playful and savvy visuals, and generate new opportunities for brands on the vanguard of their industries.

STUDIO RYGALIK

Studio Rygalik was established in 2006 by Tomek Rygalik. For the first two years it functioned between London and Lodz, Tomek's hometown. Since 2009 the Studio is based in Warsaw. This is when Gosia Rygalik joined the team to become a partner in 2012. Studio Rygalik develops a wide variety of comprehensive projects. The focus is on furniture, products and spaces. The scope is wide - from design, development and implementation of new products to site-specific installations, design & build and production of limited editions, as well as objects, dining experiences and workshops that explore the relations of design, food and eating. The team remains on the fringe of distinctly commercial activities, while engaging in cultural practices and building its experimental identity.

TAMER NAKIŞÇI

Tamer Nakişçi, who currently lives and works between Istanbul and London, describes himself as an interdisciplinary designer, whose ultimate objective is to bring new perspectives to the world of design. His belief is that even a designed object should be open to interpretation, created so each individual user can engage with it in their own way. Tamer studied industrial design at Mimar Sinan University of Fine Arts in Istanbul and was invited during that time to join the prestigious Fiat Advanced Design Concept Lab in Milan. It was there that he learned about the importance of emotion and narrative in design. But it was regular boyhood visits to his father's carpentry workshop that fired his initial enthusiasm for making. He devised a highly successful interactive installation at London's Royal Academy, took part in an exhibition curated by Wallpaper magazine at the Salone del Mobile in Milan, participated in conversations around Istanbul's Design Biennale, featured in Dwell magazine as a rising star.

NUDE DESIGN TEAM

Nude Design Team fearlessly investigates innovative ideas. We are constantly inquisitive and work hard to develop dynamic collaborations with artists and designers. Nude contemporary collections are designed to fit seamlessly with modern life, perfect for special occasions and everyday use and always enchant the eye.

ROCK & POP ARTISTS

ERENSU
EKMEKÇİLER

In 1992, Istanbul-based tattoo artist Ekmekçiler was born into a family of artists. Painting, sculpture, music, even musical instrument making, are a normal part of daily life. While studying glass design at Mimar Sinan University, he worked with artists like Tim Shaw and Wilhelm Wernim. Today, however, he makes his living by inking tattoos. "All branches of art are connected, so I cannot choose just one," he says. "The attractive thing about glass is that it can be broken and does not accept errors--much like skin."

KIEN

Born in Istanbul in 1986, Kien began writing graffiti and making street art in high school. 'When I was introduced to graffiti, there were few people interested in it,' he recalls. 'That's why the whole city belonged to us.' Experience on the streets led him to study graphic design at Marmara University and to become an art director in the ad industry. In 2018, Kien launched his own studio, combining street art, design, and advertising.

After graduating in graphic design from Hacettepe University's fine arts department in 1999, Ankara-based illustrator Umut Karaman created visuals for the software industry. Soon, however, under the name Yumidoko, her client list would include fashion industry icons like Vogue, Mavi Jeans, Les Benjamins and Ayşe Kulin. Karaman's work blends classic and pop, sophisticated and simple, calm and joyful in diverse media: children's book illustration, interior decoration and home textile design. She even turns her illustrations into clay sculpture.

CİNS

Cins was born in Ankara, Turkey's capital city, in 1984. He earned his undergraduate degree in graphic design from Yeditepe University and his Master's in visual communications at Sabancı University in Istanbul. Writing the name Cins, which means 'breed' in Turkish, his diverse, organic-looking artwork has found inspiration in cartoons, surrealism and abstract storylines that evoke emotion, not sentiment. Living and working in Istanbul today, he is influenced by his time on the streets, as well as by the forms and techniques of graphic design.

LUCA
FONT

Born in Bergamo, in northern Italy, in 1977, Luca Altini, earned a degree in political science at the University of Milan and a Master's in communications at the Catholic University of Milan. He started his professional life in the advertising industry but, during his mid-20s, began to explore the 'underworld aesthetic' of tattoo art. Soon, he moved into inking full-time--in a Milan studio and tattoo parlors around the globe--under the name Luca Font.
